“A Sooty Shearwater with a stout heart, the Godwit flock rises as one.” The voice of welcome from the University of Otago calls out to you, to take rest on this rich fertile land, on this coast of knowledge. As the first university in New Zealand, the University of Otago welcomes you all.

Whatever your dreams or aspirations, they can be realised here. Whether you want to pursue Humanities, Law, Sciences, Medicine or Business, there is a place for you here and a qualification to suit your specialty.

At the University of Otago we have the people to teach, guide and support you to fly to the mountain tops and beyond.

Welcome, welcome, welcome.
Tena koutou, welcome

The University of Otago welcomes you from wherever in the world you call home. Otago was founded in 1869 by early Scottish settlers. We are now home to staff and students from around 100 countries and we work in close partnership with Ngāi Tahu, the tangata whenua of this land. Approximately 85 per cent of our students come to us from outside of Dunedin and embracing differences and welcoming others to their new home is a fundamental part of who we are.

Otago is the oldest university in New Zealand and our academic staff are dedicated to teaching and are internationally recognised for their research. We pride ourselves on nurturing graduates who understand the value of free speech, who do not shirk from ideas that are different from their own, who have the ability to get comfortable with the uncomfortable and who are not afraid to challenge conventional wisdom. In a world where resilience has become a rare commodity, Otago continues to be a place that fosters resilience.

Our city, Dunedin, is safe, compact, vibrant and student-friendly, with beaches, hills and adventure on its doorstep. The majority of students live within close proximity to campus, either in our residential colleges or shared living arrangements. This unique environment creates unrivalled opportunities for our students to engage in meaningful extra-curricular activities with their peers. These experiences combine to make Otago graduates stand out in the workplace. They graduate not only with a head full of knowledge, but also with the skills and maturity to succeed in their career of choice, and make significant contributions to the intellectual, cultural, spiritual and economic well-being of the world around them.

Choosing Otago for this next step in your life journey says a great deal about who you are – this is a place for bright, independent, compassionate people who are not afraid of working hard to achieve their dreams. If this sounds like you, I look forward to welcoming you to the University of Otago.

YOUR DEGREE, YOUR CHOICE.
NEW ZEALAND is truly unique.

It is a safe and fun destination with friendly people, easy access to the outdoors, immersive experiences and rich culture.

It is also one of the least crowded countries in the world, with a physical size comparable to Japan or Great Britain and a population of only 4.9 million people affectionately known as "Kiwis".

The country is made up of two major islands – the North and South Islands – and a number of smaller islands, including Stewart Island.

Approximately two thirds of the population lives in the North Island. Auckland has more than 1.4 million people, followed by the capital city Wellington and Christchurch (which each have about 400,000). Dunedin’s population is around 130,000.

Māori were the first inhabitants of New Zealand Aotearoa across Te Ika a Maui (the North Island) and Te Waipounamu (the South Island).

According to Māori, Kupe ventured from the Polynesian homeland of Hawaiiki to New Zealand on a waka hourua (voyaging canoe) around 1,000 years ago, navigating by the stars and ocean currents. Several waka hourua arrived across the country over hundreds of years, and Māori established themselves as the first inhabitants and caretakers of the land.

Dutch explorer Abel Tasman was the first European to discover New Zealand, in 1642. English navigator James Cook mapped the country in 1769–70. Later, sealers, whalers and traders arrived and the following two centuries saw waves of European settlement.

Today the country is diverse and multicultural, enhanced by the growing number of people from the Pacific and Asia who have made New Zealand their home in recent years.

Kiwis have a reputation for being resourceful and innovative. New Zealand’s urban centres are full of cafes, restaurants, arts, industry and fashion. Farming remains the country’s major export industry, and there is a growing focus on ecotourism ventures, the wine industry, fashion design and a flourishing film industry that is gaining international recognition.

New Zealand is renowned for its spectacular landscapes – from dramatic mountain ranges and steaming volcanoes, to sandy swimming beaches and wild and rugged coastlines.

The South Island has some of the world’s most picturesque scenery. Beaches, glaciers, lakes and fiords, and mountains with world-class ski resorts are all easily accessible from your base in Dunedin.
Dunedin
Known as the gateway to the lower South Island, basing yourself in Dunedin allows for a comparably affordable way for you to access many of New Zealand’s world-renowned destinations of great natural beauty, and enjoy adventure activities.

Queenstown, Arrowtown and Wanaka
3.5 hours’ drive.
Queenstown, the birthplace of bungy, is known as the adventure sports capital of the world. The stunningly beautiful gorges and lakeside environment provide the perfect setting for skydiving, canyon swinging, jet boating and white-water rafting. This is also the Southern Hemisphere’s top ski resort area and has great nightlife once the sun goes down.

Fiordland
4.5 hours’ drive.
Fiordland is one of the most dramatic and beautiful parts of New Zealand and has three of New Zealand’s “Great Walks” – the Milford, Kepler and Routeburn Tracks.

Aoraki Mount Cook
4 hours’ drive.
Aoraki Mount Cook National Park is home to New Zealand’s highest mountain and longest glacier. Visitors come here to hike, climb, cycle, paddle among icebergs in glacial lakes and sit and soak up the spectacular views.

The Catlins
1.5 hours’ drive.
The Catlins is an area of great contrasts and natural beauty – from magnificent coastal cliffs and long sweeping beaches, to rainforests, hidden waterfalls and rolling farmland.
Dunedin: New Zealand’s student capital

Our more than 21,000 students make up one fifth of Dunedin’s population, creating an energy and atmosphere that you’ll only find at Otago.

The town and the University campus developed together, so Dunedin is one of just a handful of places worldwide where education is the main activity of the city.

Our campus and residential colleges are located in the heart of town, and all of Dunedin’s cafés, music venues, designer boutiques and stores, museums and galleries are never more than a short walk away.

When it comes to sport, Otago takes on the best in the world. The University’s facilities are state-of-the-art and Forsyth Barr Stadium, the world’s first fully enclosed grassed stadium, hosts top-level sports matches and world-class concerts.

But that’s just the beginning. Dunedin is a small city nestled between rural hillsides, the harbour and the ocean – meaning there’s plenty to see and do.

Experience the distinctive beauty of each of Dunedin’s four seasons. The temperate climate brings warm summers and mild winters with some frost and very occasional snowfalls.

No other city in the country has such a wide range of accessible leisure activities. Ride the waves at some 30 nearby beaches, take on excellent mountain biking tracks, paddle-board, kayak or sail on the harbour, or head to Central Otago for a weekend at New Zealand’s top ski fields.

Imagine changing out of your wetsuit then pedalling into the city centre for lunch, or snowboarding all day and getting home in time to catch a gig at your favourite music venue. It’s just part of life in Dunedin.

City and campus

Although Dunedin is surrounded by hills, most of the central city and north and south Dunedin is generally flat and easily accessible. Unlike larger cities, you don’t need a car to get around in Dunedin. It’s a 10-minute walk from the campus, residential colleges and student flats into the centre of town, and there is a good public transport system covering all of the main suburbs.

“When I decided to go to Otago University I showed my friends and family a picture of the Clocktower Building and told them that I was going to study at Hogwarts. So far the magic of this place has been without compare. I am amazed that I can study with the view of evergreen mountains and 20 minutes later be surfing on a beach with sea lions and penguins in the water. The Kiwis are very sweet and caring people and I think that culture is already changing me for the better. I am looking forward to many more adventures here.”

Haere mai ki Ōtepoti.
Welcome to Dunedin – one of the world’s great small cities and home to New Zealand’s first and still most prestigious university. As well as being a centre of educational excellence, Dunedin offers a range of outstanding recreational, cultural and community facilities and events which are the envy of much bigger cities. Throw in breathtaking natural environments, rare wildlife and a friendly, supportive community and you can start to see why Dunedin residents enjoy such a superb quality of life.

Wherever you come from, you’ll find a wonderful and welcoming home in Dunedin.

University-managed flats and houses

The majority of study abroad and exchange students stay in rented accommodation which they share with other students. In New Zealand we call this “flatting”. The University Flats are houses or apartments with three to six students that are totally integrated into the local students’ neighbourhoods and all within 10 minutes’ walking distance of campus. This provides a unique opportunity to live the local student lifestyle, and most have a New Zealand “Kiwi Host” student.

The University Flats are fully furnished with shared common spaces. Each student has their own room with desk, chair, drawers, double bed and linen provided. Internet and electricity are included in the rent, however food and cooking are the responsibility of the students in the flat.

Applying for a flat

You can apply for accommodation in a University Flat through eVision. Once in eVision on the right hand side of the “my details” box there is a link “Residential College and UniFlats”. Simply click on this link and follow the instructions, sent via email, to register and complete your application.

You should submit your application by 1 November of the preceding year for a February start, or by 15 May for a July start.

Alternative accommodation

University Flats provide the best living experience for study abroad and exchange students, however in some cases students may wish to live with a local family (homestay). If you would like further information about homestays, please contact the University of Otago Language Centre and Foundation Year.

Temporary accommodation

If you plan to arrive before your permanent accommodation is available, it is important that you organise temporary accommodation in advance for when you first arrive in Dunedin.

The Student Accommodation Centre provides a list of options including backpackers, “bed and breakfasts” and motels that are close to the University.

FLATTING is an important part of the university lifestyle; it offers responsibility, freedom, and the chance to live and mix with “Kiwi” students.
Student support

OUR TOP-QUALITY EDUCATION AND FACILITIES are matched by our range of student support services, dedicated to helping you get the very best out of your time at Otago.

Ask Otago

Ask Otago is your one-stop shop for all questions about studying at Otago. You can find answers instantly with our searchable knowledgebase, or call, email or chat with us. If you’re on our Dunedin campus, you can also find us at our hub in the Information Services Building.

Student Health Services

Student Health is centrally located on campus in a purpose-built facility. They have approximately 55 staff, comprising nurses, general practitioners, counsellors, psychiatrists and administrative staff.

They endeavour to provide the best health care possible in a manner that is competent, compassionate, confidential, timely and in an atmosphere of mutual responsibility and respect.

They provide daily urgent and routine appointments to all international students. Different consultation fees may apply for international students and most international students are not entitled to publicly-funded health services while in New Zealand. Full details on entitlements to publicly-funded health services are available through the Ministry of Health.

otago.ac.nz/studenthealth

Student Learning Development

Student Learning Development offers a free service for enrolled students. Assistance includes interactive workshops, individual consultations with learning advisers, and peer learning and support programmes. The Peer Leadership Programme offers students opportunities to develop leadership skills through a range of workshops, activities and online study resources.

OTAGO OFFERS STUDENTS many ways to become socially and environmentally responsible global citizens. Getting involved in social projects has many benefits: you’ll be contributing to positive change in the community, while at the same time gaining valuable work experience and strengthening your future career prospects. International research shows that these kinds of activities are the best predictors of success following graduation, and many employers now rate voluntary work alongside internships.

Social Impact Studio
Otago students care about social issues. Our student-led Social Impact Studio provides a range of volunteering opportunities and leadership programmes that allow students to channel their creativity, vision and insight into projects that have maximum social impact. Opportunities include: mentoring young people, helping in the community, contributing to well-being initiatives, empowering young learners through literacy programmes and taking part in global citizenship programmes.

Study options
Otago offers degrees in environmental science, social science and sustainable business. The flexibility of an Otago qualification means that most students can also complement their degrees with elective papers in areas of environmental or social interest in order to learn more about their place in the world.

Research
The University of Otago has a number of highly regarded interdisciplinary and cross disciplinary research groups, centres and clusters concerned with the environment and sustainability issues. Topics vary from the fields of agriculture, climate science and planning, to urban design and law.

University of Otago Centre for Sustainability
The Centre for Sustainability is an interdisciplinary research centre working on local and global sustainability challenges.

“Doing good looks different these days. I believe that our student community is a powerhouse of vision, energy and creativity. I say we get out of their way and let them get stuck into being the difference they want to see in their world.”

Bachelor’s degrees

New Zealand universities generally offer a three-year undergraduate bachelor’s degree – the subject you choose to specialise in is called your major. The major subject is generally studied in every year of the course, with the third year increasing in difficulty and specialisation.

Papers

The building blocks of the degree are called papers. A paper is a fixed amount of work in certain aspects of a subject at a particular level. Choosing the right papers is generally done in conjunction with a Study Abroad/Exchange adviser from your home university.

Introductory papers are called 100-level papers, and you move on in subsequent years or semesters to 200-level and 300-level papers. Usually students take a mixture of 100, 200 and 300-level papers in their semester at Otago. Papers beyond 300-level are normally postgraduate papers and require an advanced background.

Otago offers a range of papers with a uniquely New Zealand or Pacific focus. This is a great way to incorporate formal learning about the culture, society, natural and physical environment of New Zealand into the Study Abroad/Exchange experience.

Prerequisites and corequisites

Most papers beyond 100-level have prerequisites, however if you have the equivalent background you may be permitted to enrol subject to departmental approval.

Workload

Most papers are single semester papers and are worth 18 points. A full-time course is generally 54-72 points in any one semester (three to four papers). As an approximate guide, you can expect to spend about 12 hours per week for each single-semester paper (18 points). These hours are made up of a combination of lectures, tutorials, laboratories, assignments and reading.

18 Otago points are worth approximately 9 ECTS and 3-5 US credits.

Teaching

The basic method of presenting subject information at university is the lecture, although many departments use a variety of other approaches. Lectures normally last 50 minutes and are a straightforward means of introducing new knowledge. You must back lectures up with your own wide reading. You will have essays and assignments, and may take part in laboratories or tutorials where more individual attention is available. You may also find you are in regular contact with tutors, other academic staff and other students.

Assessment

Papers are assessed in a variety of ways. Examinations (finals) are usually the most important and most papers have a three-hour examination at the end of each semester. Many subjects also have shorter tests during the year, and written assignments and laboratory work often count towards your final grade.

Semesters

The University operates two semesters per year. Some papers are completed in a single semester (i.e. a half year, either first or second semester), while others run for the whole year. Some single-semester papers are offered in each semester, while others occur only once a year.

Summer School

The University offers a Summer School from early January to mid-February each year. This gives students the opportunity to study one or two papers for credit over a shorter teaching period and outside the standard semester timetable.

Discover Aotearoa and the Pacific

Many of the exciting and rewarding experiences you will have while studying and living overseas will come from engaging with people from other cultures, and seeing environments that are unlike your own.

At Otago we want you to make the most of your time with us and we offer a range of papers that allow you to fully immerse yourself in all that is New Zealand.

We believe that learning not only happens in our lecture theatres and laboratories, but also in real time, in the real world. This ‘hands-on’ style of learning will take you outside the classroom and into our beautiful country.

We offer field trips to remote areas where you can explore the geological features and processes that shaped Aotearoa New Zealand, learn about the creatures that inhabit our shores, and step aboard our RV Polaris II research ship for a no-holds-barred experience in oceanographic research examining the depths of the Pacific Ocean and the ecology of its marine life and ecosystems.

Discover what makes Central Otago wine so appealing with a paper dedicated to New Zealand’s wine industry, or gain valuable cultural and social insights from papers on New Zealand literature and film.

You will also have a unique opportunity to develop an appreciation of the richness of the indigenous peoples and cultures of the Pacific, through papers on te ao Māori (the Māori world) and traditional and contemporary Pacific societies.

Human Health and Biomedical Sciences

NEW ZEALAND’S FIRST SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

The University of Otago has a strong reputation for excellence in the areas of human health and medical science, stemming from the establishment of New Zealand’s first school of medicine in 1877.

Opportunities for pre-med students

The University of Otago is the only New Zealand university to offer programmes in Dentistry, and one of only two to offer degrees in Pharmacy and Medicine.

The University of Otago recognises the particular needs of students pursuing pre-professional studies for Medicine at their home universities. Otago offers a selection of papers that will add an international perspective to complement pre-professional education.

Fieldwork opportunities

Otago’s southern New Zealand location, in close proximity to wildlife, marine and geological areas of research interest, enables University departments to make the most of the natural laboratory on their doorstep. New Zealand-specific content and exploratory field trips are common components to many science courses in, for example, Botany, Ecology, Geography, Geology and Marine Science.

The Otago Business School has an extensive subject range, expert teachers, a recently completed $18 million redevelopment of facilities, and excellent student services. The School holds accreditation from both the US-based Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) and the European Quality Improvement System (EQUIS).

Study Abroad students can take advantage of the range of opportunities available at the School, including the Visiting Executive in Residence Programme (VEP). The VEP provides for a top industry leader in either Accounting or Finance to spend a week presenting seminars and meeting with students and staff. IRD, ANZ, ACC, NZX and directors of multiple companies have attended.

Student visa

You need to be granted a student visa before entering New Zealand and continue to hold a valid student visa throughout your enrolment period at the University of Otago. Full details of student visa requirements are available from Immigration New Zealand. If you are already in New Zealand on a student visa, and you wish to renew it, you may be able to do this on campus through the International Office.

immigration.govt.nz/study

If you’re planning on bringing your spouse/partner and/or children with you to New Zealand, they will need to apply for an appropriate visa based on their circumstances.

Medical and travel insurance

All international students are required to have comprehensive health and travel insurance while in New Zealand. The University of Otago’s recommended policy is Studentsafe Inbound University. When you enrol you will automatically be covered by Studentsafe, and the insurance premium will be added to your student account. Further details are available on our website including information on using an alternative insurance policy.

“...The quality of the classes was beyond all my expectations, it really allowed me to awake my curiosity as the environment is dynamic and lively. I would do it all again if I could!”

Clement Rebouillat (FRANCE)
MASTER’S DEGREE STUDENT WHO STUDIED DIGITAL MARKETING AND DATA SCIENCE AT THE OTAGO BUSINESS SCHOOL

Accident insurance

The Accident Compensation Corporation provides accident insurance for all New Zealand citizens, residents and temporary visitors to New Zealand, but you may still be liable for all other medical and related costs. Further information can be viewed on the ACC Website.

How to apply

Application deadlines

You can start your study at the beginning of semester 1 (February to June), semester 2 (July to November), or Summer School (January to February).

The deadlines for applications are:

- Semester 1: 1 December
- Semester 2: 30 April
- Summer School: 31 October

If you are participating in an Exchange programme you must be nominated by your home institution which must have a formal agreement with the University of Otago.

Application process

1. CHECK THE ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

Academic Eligibility

To be eligible for Study Abroad or Exchange you usually must:

- Be currently involved and have completed at least one semester of study at an accredited institution.
- Have a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 3.0 minimum on a 4-point scale, or have a “credit”, “good”, or above average results.

Students who do not meet these criteria but wish to study abroad for one or two semesters are welcome to make an application and your individual eligibility will be considered.

2. ENGLISH LANGUAGE REQUIREMENTS

If English is not your first language you must provide evidence of English language proficiency in one of the following:

IELTS

6.0 in the academic module (with no individual band below 6.0)

Internet-based TOEFL

Score of 80 (minimum writing score of 20)

Germany

B2 or higher in each of the three components of the DAAD language test

Denmark

Minimum GPA of 6 in A-level English; or a minimum GPA of 9 in B-level English when graduating from Upper Secondary School.
SUBMIT YOUR APPLICATION ONLINE

Go online to complete an application:
Exhange [link]
Study Abroad [link]

The University operates an online application and enrolment system called eVision that allows you to apply online and supply relevant documentation as part of the process. It is a two-step process with portal set up usually happening within 24–48 hours.

Documents required

You will be required to supply the following as part of the online application process:

- Copy of passport.
- Original or certified copies of academic transcripts of all previous tertiary level studies undertaken.
- Evidence of English language proficiency if required.

All documents must be certified/notarised by an authorised authority such as a registrar, notary public, justice of the peace, or attorney. The University will also accept documents certified/notarised by staff of Study Abroad and Exchange offices.

OFFER OF PLACE

All applications will be acknowledged and assessed for eligibility. You can expect an outcome within four weeks of submitting your application.

SELECT YOUR PAPERS

Once an offer has been made and you have accepted, papers can be selected online through your student portal.

Please check with your home institution what your workload requirements are. A maximum workload is four papers in one semester at Otago.

You are not normally permitted to take papers from Dentistry, Medicine, Medical Laboratory Science, Pharmacy and Physiotherapy degree schedules.

Check the subjects and papers section of the University website to ensure the papers you wish to take are offered in the semester you plan to study at Otago.

For any papers above 100-level, or that require Otago prerequisites, you will need to apply for Special Permission within eVision.

APPLY FOR ACCOMMODATION VIA EVISION

In your eVision account, click the “Residential College and UniFlats” link on the right hand side of the “My Details” box.

Follow the instructions and you will be sent an email to register and complete your application. Be sure to check your junk mail for this notification.

In order to help us find the best flat for you, please provide accurate information on your application form.

First semester applications open 1 August
Second semester applications open 1 April

PRE-DEPARTURE CHECK LIST

Before you come to Otago have a look at our pre-departure check list, just to make sure you have everything in order.

We look forward to welcoming you soon to the University of Otago!
The information provided in this guide is, as far as possible, up to date and accurate at the time of publication.

The University reserves the right to add, amend or withdraw courses and facilities, to restrict student numbers and to make any other alterations, as it may deem necessary.
